

AMBER'S ESSENTIAL TOUCH — VOICE GUIDE

File 07 of 7. Source-extracted from Facebook page, flyer, landing PDF, and Birdeye profile.

One-sentence positioning

Amber's Essential Touch is a ritual-based skin practice — aftercare-first, consultation-driven, rooted in 18 years of licensed esthetic work in Pinole, CA.

Core brand phrases (canonical — always available for reuse)

1. You'll FEEL the difference.
2. Where Skin Care Becomes Ritual.
3. Your Skin Has Memory.
4. This Is Not Fast Beauty.
5. Healing begins with how you're held.
6. Slow care lasts longer.
7. Aftercare is part of the treatment.
8. 4 Ingredients. Infinite Possibilities.
9. Purely Essential.
10. Trusted by Skin.
11. Skin Is Not a Trend.
12. Intentional Touch Reduces Inflammation.

Tone attributes

- Grounded — sentences land on the floor, not in the air.
- Intentional — nothing is accidental in the copy; no filler.
- Culturally aware — Black-woman owned, multi-generational skin, teen + senior mission.
- Personal but not chaotic — warm, not scattered.
- Ritual over transaction — "book a ritual," not "schedule a service."

Rhythm patterns (use all four, rotate)

1. Three-beat comma cadence: "Patience, repetition, and respect."

2. Short declarative stack: "Licensed Esthetician. Waxing specialist. Eighteen years. Still learning."
3. Italic emotional word: "Where Skin Care Becomes Ritual."
4. All-caps eyebrow + serif headline: PURELY ESSENTIAL → 4 Ingredients. Infinite Possibilities.

Always use

- "ritual," "practice," "intentional," "gentle," "aftercare," "consultation," "regimen," "patience," "held," "carry," "skin," "memory," "protect"
- Italic serif for emotional accent word
- Ampersand or comma cadence (comma, comma, period)
- "I" on About page (solo practitioner voice)
- "Amber's Essential Touch" or "the practice" elsewhere

Never use

- "luxurious," "indulgent," "pampering," "treat yourself," "spa day"
- "affordable," "cheap," "deal," "discount" (substitute "accessible," "by invitation," "seasonal")
- "learn more" (substitute "read," "explore," "book," "see")
- Exclamation marks in body copy (OK in client quotes)
- Emojis in headlines or product copy (✨ only sparingly in FB-style captions)
- "We" for solo-practitioner voice
- Em-dashes where a comma would do
- Medical or diagnostic claims ("cures," "treats," "heals acne" → substitute "supports," "calms," "softens," "clears congestion")

Do / Don't examples

DON'T	DO
"Luxurious facial experience!"	Consultation-based facials. Aftercare included.
"Buy our amazing oil today!"	Purely Essential Virgin Oil. 4 ingredients. Shaving, cleansing, healing.
"Learn more about our mission"	Read the mission →
"Treat yourself to a spa day"	Book a ritual.

"Our best-selling product"	The one most people return for.
"We care about your skin"	Your skin has memory. I work with what it remembers.

Voice checklist (use before publishing any page)

- ☐ Every headline has either an italic emotional word or an all-caps eyebrow
- ☐ No sentence is longer than 18 words unless it's on the About page
- ☐ At least one three-beat comma cadence per section
- ☐ CTA is a verb, not a sentence: BOOK, READ, JOIN, SUPPORT
- ☐ No "we," no "learn more," no exclamation marks in body
- ☐ Closing line of the page returns to touch, held, carry, or care
- ☐ No forbidden words: luxurious, indulgent, pampering, treat yourself

Newsletter voice (Skin Notes — monthly)

- Subject line formula: Skin Notes · {month} · {one-phrase ritual}
 - Example: Skin Notes · April · Patience, Pressed In
- Greeting: Dear skin, or Hello, gentle reader.
- 3 sections max: What I'm making · What I'm seeing · What's open this week
- Closing: signature "— Amber" and one soft sentence ("Take your time. Your skin will.")

Social voice (Instagram + Facebook)

- Caption cadence: one short line, one gap, one short line, one gap, one CTA
- Hashtag count: 5 max, always end with #ambersessentialtouch #pinole
- Never repost generic stock quotes
- Every 4th post is a client (anonymized or consented) story
- Every 7th post is a donation-mission post

Content types to rotate

1. Ritual of the week (1 post)
2. Ingredient spotlight (1 post)
3. Client carry (testimonial, consented)
4. Behind-the-bottle (small-batch photo)

5. Mission moment (teen/senior impact)
6. Soft education (1 skin myth)
